

Welcome to the Winter 2011 Newswire

Introduction by Paul Winder

Another year has flown by with member firms in the region holding up well during the economic downturn. We have seen the membership remain stable during the year, with no new members in 2010.

Member firms are taking up more and more opportunities to do business with other members in the region. There have been more firms visiting other members and others are now realising that they need to market their skills and expertise more actively to their fellow members.

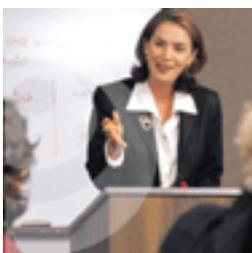

Looking to 2011, I am sure that 'more of the same' would be regarded as a positive year, subject to finding one or two new members. I would like feedback on the seminar programme for 2011, with suggestions for potential gatherings referred to below.

Similarly, I am already looking to our 2011 conference, and want to build on the success of last year. More than ever, I hope we can look to give or create opportunities for referrals within our MGI region and internationally.

Thank you for your support throughout 2010 and I look forward to working with you all in the coming year.

UK Conference report

With 101 delegates from 14 different countries, this was undoubtedly our biggest and best conference to date. We had 20 different speakers across the main conference and the tracks, and an after-dinner speaker for the first time.

Three tons of fun?

I'd like to assure all those who didn't attend this year's MGI AGM in Cape Town that the event consisted of a gruelling schedule of long lectures on the application of IFRS in different regions of the world and a technical exploration of the opportunities afforded by the introduction of iXBRL. I'd "like to assure" you of that but, were I to do so I would of course be lying my pants off.

Overseas Aspects

The second issue of Overseas Aspects was put together by Roger Isaacs from Milsted Langdon and was made available to all firms. As with the first edition, this was very well-received and we produced around 8,000 copies for member firms, with all printing costs being borne by MGI UK and Ireland.
